

A photograph of a forest waterfall with a large tree trunk in the background. The waterfall is in the foreground, cascading over rocks. The background is a dense forest with a large tree trunk on the left side.

Contents

Foreword	2
Introduction	3
A Gift from the Sea	5
A natural treasure is born of mythic geological forces.
The First Americans	9
From the time the glaciers receded to the American Revolution and beyond, Native American voices echo through the forests of the Allegheny Plateau.
Timber and Oil	15
A new era of industry and invention gives rise to unbridled logging and drilling; but there would be hard lessons learned.
Breaking New Ground	29
Pennsylvanians are among the first to restore their land with bold, new conservation practices.
Today's Pioneers	37
As rugged and determined as the people before them, today's pioneers are reinventing their lives in the place they call home.
Images from the Allegheny National Forest	45
Photographer's Notes	136
Acknowledgments	137
Selected Sources and Further Reading	138